ISLAND OF KAUAI WETLANDS ACQUISITION & RESTORATION PROJECT I

This project will restore 105 acres of wetland and upland coastal dune habitat within Mana Plain State Wildlife Sanctuary, restore 23 acres of palustrine emergent wetland in the Huleia Unit of the Kauai National Wildlife Refuge Complex and acquire 12 acres of estuary habitat within the Kilauea Coastal Preserve, benefiting the Hawaiian duck, Laysan duck, Hawaiian coot, Hawaiian stilt, Hawaiian moorhen and Hawaiian goose, all of which are listed as endangered by the federal government. Migrant waterfowl such as northern pintail, northern shoveler and lesser scaup will also benefit. Public benefits include increased wildlife habitat and opportunities for wildlife-oriented recreation and environmental education, improved water quality and increased shoreline protection.
